The show had its big start on October 4 and more than 50 days have passed this season. Unlike the previous Bigg Boss seasons, this fourth season did not initially attract the enthusiasm of the audience. Only after 50 days does it look as if the audience is beginning to notice the change in the behaviour of the participants in the house. When Behindwoods got in touch with Rio Raj's upcoming film, director Von Plan Panni Pannanum, Badri Venkatesh, he opened up about several unknown stories from the film and Bigg Boss. On Rio, he said he didn't know Rio had become angry so many times. And when asked how he reacted when he learned that Rio was about to join Bigg Boss, the director said he had expressed his opinion that Bigg Boss was not necessary for him (Rio) in his life at all.
